JOHN H. GARVIN, Town Clerk.

Report of School Board.

The School Board of Wakefield, during the past year, have considered several written and a large number of oral petitions for schools in small districts, where heretofore the scholars have been transported to other schools, at a much less cost than to support a school; and in some cases they have had more signers to their petitions and caused more influence to be felt, from outside the district, than they could possibly have obtained in it.

For these reasons it seemed best to establish schools in all the old districts, excepting one; and in that the scholars were transported from the Wentworth district to Woodman's during the spring term of school, and vice versa during the fall term of school.

By strict economy and the use of surplus money, in several districts, where it had not been used since the law of 1885 was established, we have been able to support thirteen schools, each of 23 weeks duration, only one week less than in 1890, when there were only eleven schools in town. But the surplus money above mentioned is nearly or quite expended, and with the same amount of money raised and same number of schools in the next year as in the past, the length of all the schools must be reduced to less than twenty weeks.

In this town, before 1885, the savings bank tax was used for the support of schools and was divided equally among the districts, and this was the reason for the long schools and surplus money in small districts, but since 1885 the savings bank tax has been used to reduce town taxes and not for school purposes. We wish to show you below just how many weeks school each district in town would have had this year, were the law now as before 1885. In the following calculation all money is reckoned according to the valuation of each district, and is absolutely correct, except in the case of the Literary fund, which according to law should be divided in proportion to the number of scholars between certain ages, and as shown by the following table would make the Wolfeboro Junction and Union schools more than thirty weeks in length, and many of the schools in the small districts, even shorter than the few number of weeks given below:

Nameof School.	No. of Dist,	Amount of money in 1891 & '92.	Number of weeks school as calculated by expense in each dist. in '91-92
Piper,	1	$133 50	18
Wakefield,	2	254 58	35
North Wakefield,	3	79 09	15
Oak Hill,	4	85 67	16
South Wakefield,	5	146 29	19
Wentworth,	6	112 33	15
Nutter,	7	41 68	7
Dow,	8	121 15	22
Union, two schools,	9	455 16	28
Weeks,	10	56 59	8
Woodman's,	11	46 90	8
Wolfeboro Junct., 2 schools	12	496 71	29
Total amount of school money		$2029 75

You will observe, had it not been for the new school law, that in every district in town, except the three village districts, your schools would have been shorter, and and in some very much shorter, than they have been the past year. And still it is in these small districts alone, where the schools would be shortest under the old law, that the most complaint is made to the School Board, about transporting scholars, or the length and quality of their schools.

The School Board has bought this year, for each school in town, a complete set of school charts, embracing all subjects taught in our schools. They have added much to the material for the work of the schools and to the advancement of the scholars. We believe it would be advisable to furnish dictionaries for each school in town, as they are much needed.

The extra term of district school at Wakefield, supported by the Ellen A. Dow Fund in session during the winter months, was largely attended and satisfactory in 1891, and is now in successful operation.

We think all the schools in town have done fairly successful work and hope the future will find them improving on the past, as the standard of education is being raised higher as a whole, and especially throughout the New England states; and we as a town do not want to fall behind our sister towns. Consequently we hope each succeeding year will find the School Board, teachers, parents and children more zealous in this the highest and greatest work of man, acquiring, and assisting others to acquire, an education, which is the key to success in every branch of business in which mankind can engage.
